

Prescription Assistance & Diabetes Assistance Programs

Chris had gone to the hospital seeking treatment for a health condition and while there was also diagnosed with diabetes.

Chris had owned his own business until an injury prevented him from working. As a result, he was without insurance and unsure how he could financially afford to properly monitor and manage his diabetes.

In September 2008, Chris came to Lifeline and applied for help through both the Diabetic Assistance Program and the Prescription Assistance Program.

“Lifeline’s program was an immense help,” said Chris’ wife Joni. “We didn’t know what to do after coming home from the hospital and we were able to get into Lifeline quickly and sit and talk to them in person.”

Chris was provided financial assistance allowing him to obtain testing supplies, as well as his necessary medications. Today he’s learning to manage his diabetes and maintain his health.
